Fund performance

October was a very strong month for the Fund. Stock selection was the primary driver of relative performance. Top performing holdings during the period included Generac (+22%), Manhattan Associates (+19%) and Moncler (+17%). The significant share price strength in Generac (>100% YTD) was used to sell down the position. We also trimmed holdings in Swiss industrial Belimo and healthcare company ICON. Manhattan Associates, which is a world leader in supply chain and inventory software delivered strong quarterly results during the month. More importantly, the Company raised medium term growth targets which was very well received by investors.

Market commentary

Global equity markets rebounded in October with the MSCI World ending the month 5.8% higher in Euro terms. Stocks benefitted from a solid earnings season, with 80% of S&P 500 companies which have reported so far beating EPS expectations. From a style perspective, Quality and Growth outperformed Value over the month. It was a volatile month for global bond markets. While longer dated bond yields increased by c.0.1% in both Europe and the US, the most significant moves were in shorter dated government bonds. Over the month, the market moved from pricing in just one interest rate hike by the Fed in 2022 to pricing in more than two hikes. This more aggressive pricing came on the back of the continuation in elevated inflation readings and hawkish commentary from central banks, most notably the Bank of England and the Fed. While US CPI was unchanged during the month at 5.4%, energy prices continued to rise. The European energy market experienced some of the most drastic moves with gas prices rising by 60% in a week.
