Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities (UCITS)

June 2022

Month in Review

Equities declined in June. World equities fell 6.1% in euro terms. Japan was the strongest market - followed by Asia Pacific. Europe and US were weakest. Consumer staples was the strongest sector - followed by healthcare and utilities. Energy, materials and information technology were weakest. Euro area bond markets declined 2.3%.

Major central banks, including US Federal Reserve and Bank of England, raised interest rates during the month in an effort to tackle inflation pressures - the European Central Bank intends to increase rates in July. Data from the PMI sentiment surveys indicate that US and the Euro area are still in expansion territory - however, the figures are weaker than expected. China had a strong bounce back in activity after the easing of lockdowns in May. Industrial production was up 3.2% month-on-month and retail sales jumped 3.6% - although most of this is concentrated in the goods sector.

The fund declined 4.1%. Best performers included London Stock Exchange Group, Wolters Kluwer and Roche. Worst performers included Siemens, Capital One Financial and Flutter Entertainment. Within fixed income holdings, iShares $ Treasury Bond 7-10yr UCITS ETF performed best and Pimco Euro Income Bond Fund performed worst.
