

Month in Review

Equities rose in August. World equities rose by 3.0% in euro terms. Japan was the strongest market, followed closely by the US. Communications, Healthcare and Information Technology were the three leading sectors as growth stocks outperformed cyclicals. Energy and Materials were the worst performing sectors. Euro area bond markets were down 0.5% in the month.

The minutes from the July FOMC meeting all but confirmed a reduction in asset purchases (tapering) later this year, although a precise timeline is to be decided. The labour market in the US posted strong job gains again in July with the nonfarm payrolls recording over one million jobs. Meanwhile, inflation showed the first signs of moderating with second-hand car sales flat month-on-month in July, having averaged a c.10% monthly increase over the three previous months.

The Fund was up 2.7% on the month. Best performers include CRH, Flutter Entertainment, ING, Orsted, Siemens and Siemens Energy. Worst performers include Heineken, LVMH and Visa.
