Goodbody Dividend Income Balanced Fund – GDI 4

- Gold continues to shine
- Bonds and underlying equities are a modest drag

ESMA SRRI Risk Rating

Fund Commentary

The Fund delivered a weaker end to 2025. Alternative exposures were the largest contributor to performance in December, with Gold continuing its recent trend higher. Investment grade fixed income holdings were a marginal drag, with government bonds modestly underperforming as longer term yields rose in December. Underlying dividend equity holdings were a detractor. Booking Holdings was the biggest equity contributor and, following a stellar performance in 2025, Broadcom retraced even with strong quarterly results. Despite equity market weakness, equity volatility remained subdued and the Fund's downside protection strategy (index put options) was a minor drag.

Why consider the Goodbody Dividend Income Balanced Fund?

1. Income Oriented Multi Asset Exposure

The Fund invests in high quality dividend paying equities which act as the engine of real returns for investors. Other assets, such as cash, fixed income and exchange traded funds are used to provide diversification and reduce volatility.

2. Active asset allocation

The Investment Team employs an asset allocation framework to tactically adjust exposure to equities throughout the investment cycle.

3. Risk management strategy

This strategy helps to reduce volatility and smooth the returns journey for investors.

Market Commentary

Global equity markets ended the year on a slightly weaker note. The MSCI World declined by 0.4% in December, resulting in a solid performance of +6.8% in 2025 in euro terms. The traditionally cyclical sectors, Financials, Materials and Industrials, outperformed in December. It was a weaker period for interest rate sensitive and defensive sectors with Utilities, Real Estate and Consumer Staples all underperforming. Bond yields were generally higher over the period. The US and German 10-year yields ended the month approximately 0.2% higher, rising to 4.2% and 2.9% respectively. Both the Fed and the ECB met during the month. The Fed cut rates by another 0.25%, while the ECB kept the deposit rate unchanged at 2%. Elsewhere, December was a very strong month for metal-based commodity markets. Silver and copper both jumped sharply, rising by 27% and 8% respectively.
