Goodbody Dividend Income Cautious Fund – GDI 3

- Diversified asset mix proves its worth
- Gold the biggest contributor

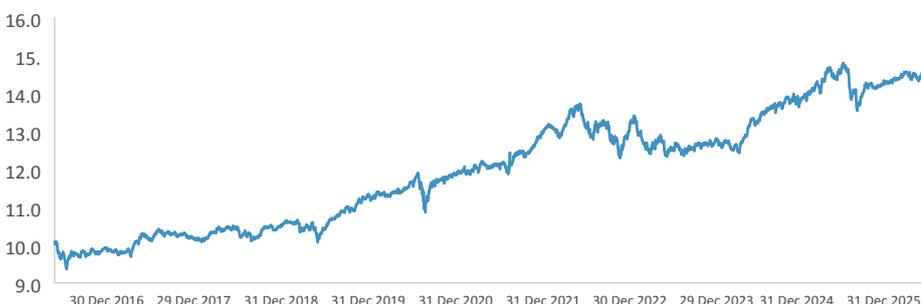

ESMA SRR I Risk Rating

Fund Commentary

The Fund delivered a strong start to 2025 driven by its diversified asset mix. Alternative exposures were the largest contributor, with Gold and broader commodities delivering strong performance. Following significant strength, a decision was made to modestly reduce the Fund’s Gold allocation towards the end of the month. Underlying dividend equities delivered positive returns with semiconductor holdings the largest driver. ASML was the best performing equity holding. Elsewhere, fixed income holdings also positively contributed, with corporate credit and government bonds both contributing. Equity volatility remained subdued in January and the Fund’s downside protection strategy (index put options) was a minor drag.

Market Commentary

Global equity markets made a solid start to the year, finishing January up 0.9%. Cyclical sectors extended their momentum from December, with Energy, Materials and Industrials leading performance. Energy and Materials were supported by strong commodity gains for most of the month: silver rose +19%, gold +13%, copper +6% and Brent crude +16%. These advances were partly reversed in the final two trading sessions following the nomination of Kevin Warsh as the next Federal Reserve Chair. Warsh, historically viewed as more conservative on monetary policy, has recently indicated support for interest rate cuts. While the Fed left rates unchanged at its January meeting, markets now expect rate reductions to resume once Warsh formally takes office. Finally, Q4/25 earnings season, which began mid-January, has so far been broadly positive at a headline level with an 11.9% blended y/y earnings growth rate.
