

The Goodbody Graduate Programme 2026

[01]

We're focused on helping you grow, develop and build a career

Deciding on the right graduate programme and a potential future career path can be overwhelming. At Goodbody, we want to provide you with the information that you need to make an informed decision about applying to our graduate programme.

As a team member at Goodbody, you'll become a part of our unparalleled legacy in Ireland's financial services sector. Because of our agility, you will have unique access to development opportunities, working closely with senior managers, contributing to key projects, and your voice will be heard.

In the graduate programme, you'll work in different streams, gaining first-hand experience across a specific business area. You'll quickly see the importance of verbal, written and interpersonal communication and how that applies in the context of maintaining long-term successful client relationships.

Goodbody's graduate programme is designed to help you grow, learn, and discover a career path that is right for you. We want all graduates, regardless of whether they continue their careers at Goodbody, to move forward with confidence, enhanced skills and strong industry knowledge.

Introduction

[02]

Message from our CEO

Goodbody relies on its graduate programme to bring new talent, fresh ideas and innovation to the firm.

We are always looking for ways to improve and we've found graduates help us do just that. Our graduate hiring process focuses on bringing in top performing, enthusiastic graduates from a range of disciplines that are excited to join the team, not afraid to contribute ideas and are focused on growing personally and professionally.

We are excited about the diversity, energy, and new skills that this cycle of graduates will bring to Goodbody. In exchange for your hard work, I can promise that we'll be committed to your success, helping you to develop, providing access to high-priority projects and giving continuous feedback.

I've been with Goodbody over 25 years holding various roles that utilise my studies at UCD. There are many reasons why I've stayed at Goodbody for the long-term: the superior calibre of my colleagues, the exciting business opportunities, the diversity of thought that challenges me and a desire to be the best at what we do. Starting your career at Goodbody will put you on a path of professional growth from the very start. It's my belief that there's no better place to begin your career.

If it sounds like you'd be a good fit for our graduate programme, we'd love to hear from you. We welcome applications from different backgrounds and academic disciplines. I look forward to personally welcoming you to the team..

Martin Tormey,
Chief Executive Officer

[03]

Goodbody is an Irish financial services firm with over 150 years of experience working closely with clients. We are a full service, investment-led business that offers wealth management, investment management and investment banking services.

Goodbody has over 400 employees, working in four offices in Dublin, London, Cork, and Galway

Dynamic product offerings and a strong firm culture allows for growth and development

Our Culture

We're proud to have a supportive culture at Goodbody, where employees can grow their careers and develop new skills. The firm encourages diversity of thought and background, prioritising inclusivity, collaboration and professionalism. We are focused on maintaining what makes our culture special, while always trying to evolve and improve our offerings for both our employees and our clients.

Our Values

Our purpose as a firm is clear, to create long-term prosperity. In order to achieve our purpose, we rely on four values as our guiding principles, do the right thing, be ambitious, make a difference and work as one. These values guide our actions day-to-day and over the long-term, and speak to our commitment to the community, sustainability and universal inclusion for all employees.

Our Offerings

Our firm offers quality advice and superior expertise to a broad range of clients. Our wealth management division is a leader in the Irish market, serving as a trusted advisor to families, corporates, credit unions and charities. Goodbody's full-service investment bank offers M&A expertise, equity and debt capital markets solutions, sales and research. Goodbody Investment Management spans two business areas: Goodbody Asset Management and Goodbody Capital Partners. Goodbody Asset Management specialises in active global investment funds and Goodbody Capital Partners is a private equity manager that invests directly into establishing companies and in seed, venture capital and private equity funds.

Who we're looking for

Fiona Brogan, Wealth Associate

The Goodbody graduate programme has given me the chance to work across a range of areas within Wealth Management. I have been a member of different teams, contributed in different job functions and taken part in steering committees. This has allowed me to build both a diverse skill set and a strong network across the company. I know the work I am doing is making a difference at Goodbody and preparing me for a successful and fulfilling career.”

Jordan McCabe,
Corporate Finance Executive

I joined the Goodbody graduate programme in 2022 and am now an executive on the corporate finance team. The graduate programme was a great experience, offering many opportunities for learning and exploring the various teams within the company. I highly recommend it to anyone looking to become a well-rounded finance professional.”

Recruiting and retaining great people is vital to our future success

Jack Barber, Project Management Officer

The Goodbody graduate programme provided fascinating insights into multiple aspects and functions of the entire organisation. Whilst working at the company in the graduate programme, I felt incorporated into the organisation as a ‘regular employee’. The programme offered expert sessions and project work which was supported by a rich foundation of knowledge of the company and industry as a whole. No two days were the same in the graduate programme.”
